(Why do you think they put rabbit in every tale?)

I don't know. White people put rabbit in Easter day too. You know why they put rabbit in Easter?

(No.)

Long time ago they were hiding eggs from the kids and a rabbit run out of bushes and ran and they said it was a devil running away. The eggs itself represents life. When a egg hatches there is life in it.

(Do you know anything about Indian doctoring? Did you ever hear of Indians talking about turning themselves into dog, hoot owl or something?)

Yeah. I use to hear my mother say you are not suppose to lay on your back when you hear an owl, 'cause the may take your heart out. A heart wont burn up cause I saw a hotel burn down and two Indians were burned long ago and I saw them taking a heart out from the burning place and it wasn't burned.

(There's no one turn themselves into dog now is there?)

Yes there is. Some one say a dog on side of highway and it was a man live west of here. One time there was a woman name Hepsy No-co-shee. She was in Sunday school one morning and Willie Carr asked her how Jesus was born and she said she didn't know 'cause she didn't take care of him. After she died we got small young boys to help us carry the casket to the grave and they were dragging it by time we got to the grave. This woman use to turn herself to dog, owl and she witchcraft people.

(Did you know any Indian medicine?)
