

(I wonder what happened to him.)

RACIAL INCIDENTS

That happened way out to White Oak. Pollie went out there. They was sent to search a still. Pollie went out there. Pollie went up to the door. Nigger down there and met Pollie at the door and said, Mr. sheriff have you got a search warrant? You can't search this place without a search warrant. Old Pollie had that .30-30 rifle with him. Said, nigger, this is my search warrant. Just as bold. He said, hey, you see that stump out there? You go sit on that stump and don't you get off of it while I'm here. Nigger said, you do what he tells you. He kill you. This nigger went out there. Didn't let him get a coat on or anything:

(He made a believer out of him.)

Finally he searched around there. 'Course, he didn't find anything. Standing out there this nigger said, sheriff, you thinks more of a horse than you do of a man. You got a blanket on the horse keep him warm. You didn't even let me get my coat. Sheriff said, why you black son-of-a-bitch, you don't call yourself a man, do you? He said, you stay on that stump till I'm out of sight. Fella said as they went up over the hill, looked back, said that nigger was just cold. Said he stayed there till he got out of sight. Funny thing happened. Happened in court down here. Nigger lawyer come down here to defend some nigger. Got off the train there and all, you know, used to everybody go down and see the train come in.

Quite an event, you know. Yeah, this lawyer got off. Said, do you gentlemen know where I can get a porter to take my luggage over to the hotel. Sam was there. Lee Webb. Sam said, well yeah, said, point out Lee. He said, he'd be glad to take it over there.

He walked over there and said I'd sure appreciate it, Mr. man.

He said, why you black son-of-a-bitch. He said, now, listen right
