

NAMES OF SEVERAL CEMETERIES

(I've been told that he was buried over on Johnson Prairie or rather at Johnson cemetery, over between Flint and Siham Springs.)

Rosary Cemetery, huh?

No, it was Johnson Cemetery. It's right on the highway between Flint and Siham Springs.)

There's two. There's one cemetery on--I know there's one right on the highway, I think there's one north on there about a mile.

(Yes, sir, there is, the Allen Cemetery over north there.)

About a mile off the highway. I went to show you an old picture here---

Joe Tyner's your father?

(Yes.)

Well, I think I went to school. I think I knew him down there.

(Probably did.)

And I knew George and what's the other one?

(Frank?)

Frank, I knew them. Did one of them die recently? Yes, that was Frank---

(---was about the same age.)

And I was about the age of Joe. And we used to be kids together. And

Lyndon and C. Clark Murphy, he died a long time ago, and I think Lyndon's in Muskogee. Louise married Jim Allison. Did you know him?

Finch, they called him.

(I've just heard of him, but I didn't know him.)

TOWNS OF ROW AND GROVE

Well, I was going to California, one time, and I understood that Louise and Finch---

(Little town of Row, now, it was there a long time before Colcord came
