

(Just a family name is all I need there.)

Green, Hoby Green lived on the place, and that was his children. I believe it was one of his nephews, and , maybe a couple of his children (not clear). And it could have been his (not clear), I don't know. And I'm very old.

EARLY DAY SCHOOLS HAVE DISAPPEARED

(Yeah, there was evidence that there was about 25 buried there. That little school up there, it's a -- I am real interested in that. Is that an old place?)

Well, yeah, well that's (not clear) school there. I just don't remember what year, long before statehood.

(Before statehood.)

Yeah, and they had a school there.

(It look like it been closed for long time now?)

Yeah.

(Some one's using it for a hay barn now?)

Yeah, it would have been disposed of because (not clear) .

(Yeah, so many of those old school have already disappeared.)

Yeah, that's right.

(It'd be nice if some one had gotten a picture, of all of them before they -- It's too late for many of them now.)

That's right. Too late to get much information.

(That's right. Well, that was a -- I looked at that school house, and I thought, well, it's just a tiny thing, but a lot of kids went there, I guess, from around that country. What was the name of that community up in there? Would that be the Sunnyside School?)

Sunnyside School is what they called it.

DAWES COMMUNITY AND SUNNYSIDE COMMUNITY

(Yes, and the area around it, then, I guess they call it Sunnyside district.)
