

(Yeah.)

Called it Jim Bean's Salt Works

(Well Jim--)

And the Cherokees at one time after one of the raids up in Osage country here from over around doing a raid on that early settler bunch. Come back here and wrecked it for the hell of it.

(Well.)

Busted up all of his big kettles of--

(Yeah.)

And I imagine that was an actual thing. The only place I can think of down there would be around that Oil Springs District.

(Yeah.)

There might be some salt in that water down there.

(They say there is salt there somewhere.)

Now this up here was the Ketcher allotment. Lot of Ketchers over here.

(Yeah, there is and all down through this country.)

(Interruption)

TEACHERS, SCHOOLS

Make a believer out of all of you.

(Old Ben Olson.)

Ben make a believer out of all of you. Stayed with him for about ten years.

(Well. Well, they had to be pretty tough teachers to handle some of those boys. Some of the boys was big as the teachers.)

EARLY FAMILIES IN WATTS COMMUNITY

I didn't know her.

(Yeah. Let's see. Now Charley Russell here, what relation did he say he was to old Wing Russell?)
