

I wasn't very big. My mother was acquainted with Ellen Bushyhead. We went up there one time. Kind of up north of Watts. And went out in there. Went to see Ellen Bushyhead. I couldn't have been over three or four years old.

(Yeah.)

EXPERIENCE AT MORRIS HOME

But I do remember going out there. (Interruption)--near the old Musgrove's house. If it is that would be the house. This is Morris place.

(Yeah. The Morris?)

Yeah. Sylvester's folks built this place. They moved on this place later on.

(Well, who was the original old man Morris? Which one was he?)

Now he was different. They were a different outfit than this one. John Morris family down here. Henry, I believe, was the one down there now. I'm not sure about the old man up here. The graveyard is the only place here.

(That's an old place there.)

Yes sir, and it sure went to disorder. There's nobody ever took care of that for years. Come out here on time. My mother was well acquainted.

(Yeah.)

And Morris. I even spent the day there at all. Didn't have no screens on the windows. Went to eatin. Had an old big gal about fourteen years old up there with a rag to keep the flies off the table.

(Well.)

She pop me in the eye with it naturally. She said, did you ever eat one of them places didn't poke you in the eye.

(Yes sir. That's an old place there. Historic place, too.)

I dont know just when that new house was built, but I remember where that
