

there. Where was the courthouse?

Back this way from the cemetery.

Mrs. Garvin: Before you get to the cemetery there on the curve.

Its all gone over there.

Mrs. Garvin: Oh yes, its all gone. I mean where it used to be.

They had a whipping log there, hanging--They wouldn't want no money either. They'd either whip you or hang you.

(Well.)

Mrs. Garvin: That's where the Cherokees went to get their script payment.

Yeah. Script money.

(Yeah.)

All the Indians, didn't have no sense in white people. Lot of them didn't give you very much in a month. (not clear)

(Well, there wasn't too much money, I guess, in those early days, was there?)

No, The rest won't pay you every month.

(Money didn't mean much to the Indians either.)

No. Used to have to always have a good time.

(Yeah, you did have a good time as long as it lssted.)

Yeah, Yeah, give you a good whipping. Strip your coat off and put you around that log and had ropes or handcuffs and start beating you. Kept you in the sun all day.

(Its hard to realize that those things actually happened. Looking at--

(commnet by Mr. Garvin not clear)

(Interruption)

Mrs. Garvin: (not clear)

Always have churn at each end of the table.

(Well.)

Twelve old cows to milk and plenty of mouths to feed.
