

on the bed praying. I don't know what she's praying, I guess she be praying to this bundle, I guess. And what she asked for it, it came true. Like today, see I got grandchildren today. And on the other hand I got great grandchildren today. So that's where she made the prayer. I heard her. I want to see certain things in the future for my grandsons. Maybe my grandson will have children and maybe on the other hand he might be a grandpa. That's how she made a prayer. Today that's the way it is. Her prayer was answered, through this bundle, she had. So that's her belief that away, my mother. She really believe in Indian ways. Because she don't know anything. Way back I heard Indians to pray to anything. They didn't know Christ. They didn't know what church was. Anything they see, they worship it. They worship the sun, old Indians, way back. Whatever they see, well maybe they see a weeds of something they worship the weeds. Just anything because those days they didn't know the man above who created everyting. I was right there. Just like today, I think about it you know. Them old people they had some kind of feeling about things that away. They got sense about things. They..the man above create all and they pray to something. This mother earth. That's all His work. Well they see something down there look good, these old Indians they pray to it. They don't pray to the man above. But seem like they praying to the creator because he create everything. They pray to what they see and that's all his work. That's the way they pray, long time. Indians. I heard that. I don't know myself, that's all I heard, what people talked about.

(Did your mother ever open your bundle?)

No, never did. Not supposed to. That one that Gertie's got, Apache John they used to open it every spring. They claim..I never was in the tipi when Apache John untied it, I never was. I don't know how come I didn't
