

Mamie Young.

(Yeah. Mamie Young was one of 'em.)

That's my cousin.

(It is. I cut this article out so I could keep it. 'Cause it was real interesting, the things that they were talking about. I think they said, the photographer said they lived around Turkey Ford.)

Yeah.

LOCATION OF TURKEY FORD COUNTRY - CAYUGA PEOPLE

(Now that Turkey Ford country where does it relate to the highway that goes up through there?)

It's off of number 10. It's west of number 10 on the county line. Half a mile west. Now that's the old original Turkey Ford. The new Turkey Ford is east.

(Oh, it's east.)

Yeah, east. It's two miles east and a quarter north of number 10 on the county line. Now that's what they call the new Turkey Ford.

(Well, was the old Turkey Ford was that a meeting place for the early day Cayugas and the Senecas or trading post, is it?)

Yeah.

(Well, it's been interesting to find out what all they had there been at one time.)

Now the main trading post over at Cayuga.

(Yeah.)

That's south of the stomp ground across the lake. Kinda southeast of it.

(Do you remember who run that trading post or did you ever hear who?)

No. Far back as I can remember is name was Von Hotson. And then there was a Marlow took it over from him.
