

coat Army will return across the Ocean after the weapon Indians will come back to their home places and no one will say This is my land. They will be no trespassing signs no signs says keep out, They will be a few white people left and they will live together again and a few coloreds will be left and they will be mighty glad to see a Red Man and they will hug him and says "Indian we are glad to see you". Some Indian will come out under the ground in which they were hiding. There is another land inside the world which no one knows about. Some of the Indians have been inside the earth and found people which were four foot tall. But they will keep them a secret in case they use their own secret weapon. Not many years ago, they have found this a new World cave and they went inside. For those Indians who do not believe they took them inside and show them inside. They seen a beautiful world many deers many wild Turkeys and hogs and many blue waters and fish. When they come out, they were never told to no white person. That where the Indians hiding place will be. Some will go in there when they moved the Indians to the West and every body will come out. It will all begin and they will start all over again turning plows and one horse buggy and Wagon Train. People who had gone to new land up there they will come down in rocket. They will never go back again, rocket will never fly again. They will make blacksmith shop and start banging an iron. They will no gun only bow and arrow will hunting again. And the white people will raise their children and a few Negroes will be raised again. This may be happening maybe a hundred years or two hundred years maybe ten years. No one knows. And again if it happen they will be no Indian Secret Weapon will not be use again. If it happen again the cried of the Indians heard again. It will be all up to the Guiding man up there. It shall be on fire, no more the cried of Indian will never be heard again.
