

She's a Curlyhead now. But I thought of her. I couldn't tell you just exactly where it is now. Because I was small.

(Yes ma'm.)

Now --Mrs.-- No. Well, Mrs. Willey and Mr. Elsberry.

(I've heard of them.)

Well, I don't know who lives on the --I don't know who that man is now.

(Thompkins, yes ma'm. I've heard of them.)

Their land was on north over. Thompkins place.

HOGSHOOTER CREEK AND AREA

(What is the name of this creek here?)

Hogshooter.

(Hogshooter creek. Isn't that unusual. Well, there must have been a family by that name sometime.)

Well, there might because on down the road--Hogshooter store--Hogshooter school there, but there was a Hogshooter store.

(Yeah.)

Used to be a little church back of--you know where this--I think they call it Cole store now, I guess. But it was originally--first main as I remember.

(Yes ma'm.)

And there was little creek on the place. I can't remember the name of the creek.

(Was it--since you mentioned Cole--was it a Cole school at one time?)

Well, it was first Midway.

(Midway.)

Let's see. Yeah, I believe it was first Midway and then Cole or else it was Cole then Midway. I'm not quite sure.

(Yes sir. And it's gone too now.)

It's been gone very, very long time.
