

"I hope to meet you some day." And Ray got hold of my hand, and he just pulled me back, you know, course, it's some--it gets me, you know.

(Yeah, he probably afraid you take it too hard, you know.)

Unidentified voice: Dolly, you know, and he knows it pains.

Uh-huh, yeah, and so --

(Well, how long did you stay at Chilocco, Dolly?)

Five years.

(You stayed there five years and worked and went to school.)

Went to school.

(And graduated from high school)

Yes.

(So, then, you came on back home?)

Yeah, met a man and got married. (Laughter)

Unidentified voice: (not clear) (laughter)

(Who did you meet and got married?)

Him

(And what was your name before you got married?)

Cochran.

(Dolly Cochran, and after you got married, your name --- )

Neugin.

(Dolly Neugin, and you're still married to the same man.)

That's the way it supposed to be.

(And how many children did y'all have?)

Fourteen.

(Fourteen, and so you all settle down here, huh?)

Settled down right here.

(And you farmed and raised your own food.)
