

(He went to Jerusalem?)

Mmm-humm, that's Christmas.

(Holy Land.)

Mmm-humm, and I told him, "You know, Roy." He looked at me, and, then, I said, "Tomorrow it is going to be several months ago since they crucified (not clear)." He looked at me and stretch his neck, he said, "Who let you down?" I said, "The good books."

(Yeah.) (Laughter)

I guess, he thought that I kinda silly maybe.

(Was he Cherokee?)

Cherokee--kin to mama.

(Gee--it cost a lot of money to make that long trip over there. Is he preacher or something.)

Unidentified voice: (not clear)

No, he not no preacher. He just a member.

(Just a Christian.)

Mmm-humm, you know, it was--it has been several months ago since they crucified (not clear) last Sunday.

(Yeah, it's been a long time.)

And, then, next Sunday, it'll be several months ago since he lived.

(Uh-huh, Palm Sunday, that's this coming Sunday.)

Mmm-humm, so I--he said, "Dolly," I said--I just listen. He said, "Can you study Bible that way?" I said, "Yeah, I been good Sunday School teacher for fourteen years."

(Had you, Dolly?)

Yeah.

(Where'd you teach? Around here close?)
