

Unidentified voice: Time work.

Time work.

(Time work, huh-huh.)

Time work and then they --

Unidentified voice: (not clear)

Unidentified voice: (not clear)

(And the wind is all cool.)

Yes, it was all cool. I tell you what they cook. You got that thing on?

(Yeah.)

INDIAN COOKERY

Well, they cook skin corn, hominy, and what they call Kanutchia.

(Uh-huh, well, I know what Kanutchia. That's hichory nut.)

Mmmm-hmmm.

(I know what hominy is.)

That's been pounded corn.

(But how about skin corn?)

Well, they skin that corn with ashes.

(Ashes, like out of a fire place?)

Mmmm-hmmm.

(Wood ashes?)

Yes, and they skin that corn, wash it real clean, you see, so it won't be dirty.

(Is it hard corn that you shell off?)

Yes.

(Like you put in a pot or something.)

Yeah, iron pot.

(How much water do you put in it?)
