

our hogs. We used to have some wild hogs, too, down there. Mixed with our tame hogs.

(I bet they was (good.)

Yeah. We was down there. We was all right. They killed--they go out in field and kill deer. Father and Mother carry gun, had a gun. They kill turkey, too. You know when turkeys roost, you know. Go night time, you know, moonlight. They get two turkey and bring 'em home. Life was easy for us down there, though. I never saw a dance till I first went to school up there. And they camped down there. They have hardly anything down there. My uncle stays down there before he got married. After he got married, nobody down there. We had a family down there by the name of Patterson. He watched the things for us, for father. /Sentence not clear/ everything. Different kind of ceremony, different kind of dance, they put father in there. He couldn't get away. He had to stay.

STORY ABOUT DEATH OF GRANDFATHER

(Did you ever hear about the old time stories about, you know, years back when they used to go out on war parties and hunting parties, like that?)

My grandpa, my mother's father, he got killed right down here.

(What?)

Huh?

(Got killed where?)

My grandpa. Right down where Tommy's home is.

(Oh, Tommy McDaniels.)

Yeah. 'Cause they come over here some--they camped down there. And, I guess, they're going through ceremony of some kind. Anyway, they got in down there and he never drank before. And if they ask you if you wanted to eat, you help eat. He went over there that night. He went over there where they was eating. When he got in there, they 'course give him a drink. He never did drink before. They got him drunk.
