

Then they used to run from--you know, where that there that place north of pumping station. You know where the station is?

(Yeah.)

OTHER RACE TRACKS - OTHER RACE HORSES

Right straight across that way. Over there kinda high mound?

(Yeah, where that old golf course used to be?)

I don't know where the golf course used to be. But you know where that filling station is? Right across there's a house on the west there.

(Yeah, that's it. That used to be an old golf course.)

Used to run a race from there clear down to, you know where going out here south of Hominy. They used to run that far.

(Other side of Red Eagle's old place?)

You know where, I don't know where. Right there where Hominy ends, west side. Where you go--first branch, first branch will be just about half mile on this side. That's how far they used to run.

From that place over there. That's a long ways. Take a long distance horse to do that. Some of 'em would give out. Big Chief turn around across from where old man Blackbird, by Barry Kaufman's place, right across the branch there, there was a race track there. They got big name on it. They used to run race there all the time.

(Other side of that bridge?)

Yeah. Other side of the bridge. You go south of Hominy. First creek you come to south of Hominy, right across, right there, right across there about a half mile. They start from there. Starts way down there. That's how far they run. You know I been all over there. And come think about it, I been all every place. Father used to have race horse, too. Used to be one old man and one old lady. Her husband died. Had two race horses. They call one of 'em Prince. I forgot the other one. Racehorses. His wife,
