

TERMINOLOGY

(How can you tell?)

Just whatever you think. When two of them is playing, if you look at them, if you say, "west!", well, you might miss one on that team. But I always say, "Both sides!" Go this way. And "Outside" is like this. And if this one's got it on the outside and this one got it on outside, you got them.

And then you say, "In the middle!" And if both of them have it in the middle you get them.... h'w.n'w' aex -- that means "on both sides." Outside.

And "in the middle" is n'ε h'ε hi'θei That's "in the middle." (interruption)

...and this is nae'ae.θae -- "west."

(O.K. Give me the word for "east side.")

s'w.taebae' (Or s'w.taeb)

(O.K. What was the other one?)

nae'ae.taebae' that means "west side." (Or nae'ae.taeb)

(Show me the sign for that again.)

Yeah.

(What is the word for "east"?)

h'w.wuni.hihi' (Or h'w.wuni.hhihi')

(Well, this s'w.taebae' --?)

s'w.taebae' --now, like, that doorway. "doorway."

(O.K. Now what would be the word for "west"?)

ni.snae'esaet -- "west."

(This word, nae'ae.taebae' --?)

That's "west side--inside."

(End of Side A. See last page for diagram of signs.)