

have been later on.

(Yeah. Those are most interesting. I attend a lot of them and I really enjoy them.)

Yeah. Some of 'em is going to around Anadarko later on this month.

If I don't have to have an operation, I am going.

(Yeah.)

I don't know. I just never was interested in them stomp dances.

'Course, everybody had their own thought.

(Oh, yeah.)

I've had chances to go to these dances. I just never did care nothing about it. I wasn't brought up that way.

FARMING BEFORE CATTLE GRAZING

(That's right. Has this been a farming community at one time before it went to cattle?)

Uh-huh.

(Uh-huh. Pasture land. Look like a real rich soil through here.)

It is. Yes, farming before. Well, all through here before white people... They used to call it long time ago. People used to live plumb on down around Hector.

(Yeah.)

BECOMES AN OIL FIELD TOOL DRESSER

Back in them hills there and then come way back around here and then used to run way out here to - towards Twin Hill down there.

Yeah. My father used to work here. And after he passed away, I went to work there. I worked there for years and years and then finally I quit it. A lady was drilling a well back over here, an oil well. I got in the oil business. She asked me if I could dress tools for 'em. Called a man, Noah Greenhall out of Okmulgee.

And ask me if I would help him. I said, well, I don't have any experience. He said, well, we'll learn this. I said, well, I'll
