

then when we get through with what we're working on then well we dismiss. Sometimes we go over to the Arbeka Craft Center after our meeting. And spend some time looking around over there. See what they're doing and what's going on. Talk, you know, just visit with the ladies over there. We have had lessons just lately about making throw pillows for our homes. And then we had a lesson making pot holders, attractive pot holders for our kitchen. And attractive tea towels. And we've had a lesson on making bed spread. And making draperies. Making curtains. And sometimes we have lessons on how to make hot rolls. Or loaves of bread. Pie crust, donuts, bread mix, you know like a basic mix. Corn meal mix, something like that. But she always has a very good lesson for us. And I'm sorry more women in the community don't come out for that but you know anymore so many people don't want to get involved with anything. They don't want to take the time to go to these things.

OTHER COMMUNITY EFFORTS

And I'm the official score keeper for our softball team. And my husband is coaching a women's independent softball team here in Dustin. We have a good field and good lights and good bleachers, and concession stand. We kind of finance our own project with the concession stand. And if the lights cost little more than we have, well, we take up a collection or maybe some citizen will pass the hat around and take it. Tonight we got around four dollars and something. You know that will help towards paying for the light. And then we're planning to have a softball tournament this next week. We've invited eighteen men and I believe seven women's teams. And we have bought the trophies, with the entry fees. And we're planning to have a week full of ball games.

(Next week, huh?)

Yes, beginning Monday night.

(Is it all Indian?)

No, it's not all Indians.

(Just mixed)

Just mixed, uh-huh. We have, on our team, oh, most people think that there are maybe a few Indians on our team but actually
