See, our people back there. And, like, well, like the children of Isreal, you know. It's in the old Testament, they were laid, in the beginning, they were laid together just like when they're out, or camping out or in their home, place where they live. They lived close together, see, like me and (Ponca word) and Blood Clan lives together. And the other clans lives over here and so on. They live together and they don't ever marry each other, but they marry to other clans, thats the way it was back there. But nowadays, you know, well we're just like anybody else. Those things, they're all forgotten, and the relatives, you know, widely part, you know. So, they don't go according to that anymore.
