

(Oh, you got your own.)

Ah-hum.

(Right by your house?)

Yeah, I told the neighbor to my sister-in-law. I said I bought it and then just give it to the church. I had allotment west of Boyton. I sold it and bought this place. It just twenty acre more or less on this side of the railroad.

(But your allotment was up by Boyton?)

Yeah.

(Ah-huh.)

In Okmulgee County.

(Yeah. The little town up there they call Council Hill.)

Yeah, it's back in here.

(Is that old Creek town, too?)

Yeah, I guess it was then that High Spring they call it up there that used to be, have council, think they use to have council there.

(Yeah, to have council there, long time ago, before they moved to Okmulgee.)

That's the reason they use to call it that Little Town Council Hill.

(Yeah, Council Hill. This is old Creek Nation down in here. Been here a long time.)

You know when a man gets old he used to work around, it worries him, it worries me.

(Course, if you had something to do maybe. Maybe plant garden.)

Yeah, it's sorta of --

(You got good garden?)

Just a few things.

(Yeah.)
