

(Was there anything that these men did to other than announce what was going to happen?)

Well, I say they were doctors and different things that they did.

Of course, that was before my time and but I was old about it and

I know of this one particular that came to see me.

(Were there any special songs when they were doing the Ghost Dance?)

(Would they have any special songs at any certain occasion?)

Each set of men that done the singing had some exclusive song that they started with so if this party sung all their songs the next one would take over, way they done it.

(Would they sing any certain number of songs before the next one took over?)

I imagine they did but I never did pay any attention to it. I seen it, but I never paid any attention to it.

(Did women sing too?)

Oh yes. Uhuh. They had special singers. They always danced next to the men where they..the ones that start the songs you could dance next to the singers. The singers always danced next to the men singers.

So that's the way they danced that.

(Well did the men singers dance too?)

Yes, all of them. They didn't have no drum or anything, they just dance. Just vocally that's all. They didn't have no drum.

(They didn't have any kind of drum at all?)

No, they didn't have no drum.

(Did they have any other thing that made music?)

Well, all I saw at the time, they just had the eagle wings and things
