work in town the other day. He come here last night and got clean clothes. He said, "It sure hot. You got to change clothes ever day." And got some clean clothes and went back.

(Well, it's nine o'clock. Time really goes by now days. I guess you are tired.)

You know I never could stop. I set up here sometime, ten, ten thirty, and go to bed.

(Oh, do you?)

If I'm not reading, I'm sewing. If I'm don't do nothing, just sit there. That makes me tired.

(You don't get tired of talking.)

I don't have no body to talk to and I got to talking I just talk. (Laughter)

(Well. We enjoyed hearing you talking. Can you think of anything else.)

If I'd known you were coming I would think up lots of stories.

(Caught you by surprise didn't we?)

(Discussion--not audible--between Mrs. Lucinda Tiger and another lady.)

Yeah, I can remember lot of things back in my childhood days. But not like when you was a little girl. Maybe just a little different. Not too much. It's might be not much from you but now days. But it's different now days. Well, lady said little kids if there was a lion standing out there you tell that kid not to go out there. He's just walk on out there.)

DISCIPLINE FOR HER CHILDREN

Yeah. And they be doing something and you tell them not to do it and you know you turn your back and they'll do it. (Laughter) Oh, I got some grand children. But I raised by kids strict. What I mean they raise them strict and I did. I whip them boys. I just got two boys. And both of them was staying home. And one of them got married. He lived with his wife about a year.
