

Yeah. Boy, they pretty good.

Third voice: But they're too big now though to whip.

Yeah, they're too big. But when I get to them and if I know they're doing wrong I'm really tiger. (Laughter).

(Does your grandchildren mind you good?)

Yeah, they mind me.

(They know you mean it, huh.)

Well, girls tell them, "Grandma means it now." "She used to whip us and she'll whip you." But they mean it.

(Well, that's good. They used to wouldn't catch me to whip me.)

I had one girl, they used to play behind the smoke house. We had little house out there. We call it smoke house. And they had a play house right back there. I had a neighbor out there and I went there to talk to her. When I looked back I seen they was fighting. I stood there and talked to her a while and then I come back. I come through here and got to the kitchen door and I call one by one. And I got me strap then. And the other one she always afraid of switch. Now I said, "Jody come here." When she started coming she run. And I caught her and got her good. She always start to running. She really hate to get a whipping.

(She said she don't get tired of talking. She gets tired of sitting down and not doing nothing. (Laughter.) )

If I'm not piecing quilt. I'm reading paper.

(Do you have a picture of yourself that you can give me?)

I don't think I got a picture. I think they got it all scattered out.

(If I'd had a camera I'd take a picture.)

(Woman speaking to informant about taking a picture of her.)

That's the only time. They don't give it to me, the oldest boys, (name not
