

Is the place, course.

(Yeah.)

Sign, for the plea. If I may use that term.

(Yeah, the plea of any race national plea of some kind. There is a wonderful story right there.)

I have to brighten up this side, a just a little more. Of course the, the tree, the head is on there are two leaves, two green leaves.

(Ah-huh)

Meaning the possibility of great prosperity.

(That's right.)

To emerge yet.

(Ah-huh)

SPEAKING OF TODAY'S INDIANS

To be given or earned. I think the -- well, I think the Indians just got to get up there and just prove it.

(He has, he's doing it too.)

Every field and endeavor.

(Every--you got to do it himself. No one else can help him or show him.)

It's nothing else. Build a spaceship and go to Mars.

(That's right.)

They believe in being, my daddy would even be more shining.

(No they seem to be, in my observation in the last few years, that the younger Indian especially, are, seem like they are just going without restraint.)

They should be taught Cherokee.

(That's right.)

They should be able to speak both languages.

(They should be able to preserve that, as their part of their heritage.
