

(Where did that dance come from?)

From Montana. I think they call them Blackfeet Siouxs--they're the ones that learned these southern people.

(Did the Blackfeet used to come down here?)

No. These boys used to travel. You know, go up there and learned it over there and they brought it over here. Start to learn the girls and and other boys to dance. Oh, they really thought that was the only dance they could have. And their ^{songs} ~~sounds~~ were pretty lively.