

*Indian Institute
University of Oklahoma*

M-8
CECIL PALMER, KIOWA
INTERVIEWED: 5-12-68
INTERVIEWED BY: DAVID JONES
TRANSCRIBED BY: DAVID JONES

INTERVIEW SITUATION:

Cecil Palmer is a man in his early fifties who now lives in the vicinity of Hog Creek southwest of Anadarko, Oklahoma. He sings songs employed in the services of the Native American Church. The interviewer also talks with Charles Palmer and Sonny Eagle Wing who are in the room while the taping of the songs is in progress.

The following transcription is of the conversation which took place at various times during Cecil Palmer's singing.