

good if one man take that on himself. I could tell you about my family history but that belongs to me and nobody, none of these others would get after me for telling somebody about my own family. But it's only when one man talk about everybody when it might be bad for him to do that. We still follow real old time ways. Have ceremonies to old gods. We get bunches of squirrels to eat because that's the way its been going for hundreds of years, I guess. They dance all day and all night so group will live together for a long time. Best thing is if you come over there when we having it and talk to all those peoples about it. You can come as my guest. I'll et you know when to come. Theyhave it at Little Jims.
