

They made soap out of them, you know.

(Yeah.)

(But I guess they had a lot of enjoyment in those days though--)

Yeah.

(With what little they had. And, of course, she went through the Civil War, too, I guess.)

Yes, she went through the Civil War.

(That must have been some hard times--)

Yeah.

(During those days.)

I think she stayed here during the Civil War.

(Yeah.)

Of course, we had no way of getting away.

(That's right. No people couldn't go very far unless--)

And my folks all lived here and left this old house here and went on down into Texas. Stayed down in there and waited until the war was over.

(Yeah.)

And they gathered up the Niggers and them was to go with was--my Uncle. sister and she took them up into Kansas. I guess part of the Niggers was from Texas more than the South.

(That's right.)

(Which one of them was--was your--your Uncles' sister you say there took some up in Kansas?)

Yeah.

(What was her name?)

Her name--let's see--her name was Nancy what was her name, I don't know.

(There was a Nancy Sanders though?)
