

FORTY-NINE SONGS AND WOLF SONGS

(Tape opens with Myrtle singing a song.)

I don't care if you're married, I still love you,
I'll get you yet, Hey-yo-o hai-ya, ey-ya-hai, ey-ya-hai-ya
Ey-ya-hai-ya hai-yai-ya hey-ya-hey-ya-hey-yo-o hai-ya
ey-ya-hai-ya hai-ya-a-ey-ya hey-yo ey-ya-hey-yo-o hai-ya ey-ya-ha ey-ya-ho-yo
Oh, yes, I love you, honey, hey-yai
I don't care if you're married I still love you,
I get you yet, hey yo-o hai-ya, ey-ya-hai, ey-ya-hai-ya

(Second song)

Whenever I'm alone, I get lonesome for you
I wonder if I ever see you again, hey-ya ho, ey-yo-hai-ya
(Etc.)

(Third Song)

I got drunk at "Western Front"
That's where I get my Bay Rum
Take me home before I bust your drum.
Hey-yo ya ho-ey-ya-hey
Etc.

(Fourth Song)

Now, this is Forty-nine song:

Oh Hell with you, hey-yeh!
I'm through with you, hey-yeh!
I got another one, hey-yeh
I got better one, hey-yeh
Ya-hey-ya-ho-ey-ya-hey
Etc.

(Fifth Song)

And you know that I love you, a-hey-yeh
I see you tonight in the moonlight, yo-hey-ya-hey
You know the place where we meet every night, hey-ya-hey-yeh Etc.

(Did you make that last one yourself?)

Yeah.

(What about this one that goes "To hell with you, I'm through with you--")

I made that. Yeah. They was having Forty-nine over there east of where this Madiline Sankey lives--they had a Round House. I sang that song
