

Irene: Well, he has to earn a living, but some people, I guess, gets on his nerves. He gets kinda all worked up.

Birdie: I think everybody, Irene, gets on his nerves. That's what I think--

Irene: I don't think he needs to be in there--

Jordan: Has he been there long?

Birdie: He's old.

Irene: He's a kinda elderly man.

Birdie: Oh yeah, he's probably ready to retire. He's a elderly man.

Irene: He isn't that old, but he sure does look like he's kinda old.

Birdie: See, they need to come spray my house. You'll find scorpions here, too. See, they can spray--the Sanitation. But they don't come here. They don't even care. They're supposed to bring me outhouse. They never did bring it. They were going to bring it long time (ago)--

HAVE TO HAVE RIGHT CONNECTIONS TO GET SERVICE

Jordan: When you apply for this Sanitation Program, where do you have to go to get in on that?

Birdie: Every place! You have to--I went to the--I went over there--even look on their reports. You know when they give me the run-around, it makes me mad!

Irene: Yeah, they give you the run-around!

Birdie: It makes me mad! I just start trying to get the--

Irene: Just like I say, you just have to have a--seem like they just have to like you, is the only way they do something for you. I think it's the people that work in the Agency. They say, "Well, they got plenty. They don't need it." They go by somebody else's word that works in the Agency. Same way with welfare. They have Indian people working for them and these Indian people say, "Oh, they don't need it. They got plenty." Well, I think that's the way they work. They're supposed to help everybody. And I've seen lot of people where they draw money and they scheme around and they--like, for instance, these
