

business and he told me that. I said, "Well, I'm not going to chase you all any more," I said. "You know my situation," I said. "Please, you all, come around!" I was just begging! So I don't know--I hope they come around. And they say they're supposed to send us an outhouse. I never did see that outhouse!

Irene: I don't think you're going to see it! They're too busy:

Jordan: This is that Mulkehay Church where you get your water?

Birdie: Yeah! Run up their bill--we always get water! Get water down there all the time.

Irene: That's where we got our water, too. They got good water.

Birdie: Good water--never goes dry. And here that officer, he can't get water around here! That well never went dry.

Irene: Well, our neighbor never did have a--never did go dry, but we never bother our neighbor. We just come to the church, haul water.

Birdie: I know. You're afraid. I don't even get water here or here.

Jordan: What difference does it make if there's electric pumps.

Birdie: Electric bill. People will say, "Come and get water." Well, see, Julia's daughter told us, "Yeah, come on. Get water." We went twice and the third time we went they locked their little house (pump house). They locked it and we couldn't get our water. And Jack said, "Well, I'm not going back there." We went down to Mary Tate's and we use her Sanitation pump--you know, she's got an electric pump now. Well, it goes dry, too. So we used that and just about the third time we went, that handle was off. She took the pump handle off! See how people are!

Irene: They invite you but if you make too many trips down there, they just-- Birdie: So see there? We don't even know what to do. We'll just have to move away or something!

Irene: Have to have a rain dance, I guess, every now and then!
