

(Can you remember how much they gave you?)

Oh, not too much because too many Indians was there.

(Did your mother teach you how to cook?)

No.

(She didn't?)

No.

(How many meals a day did you have?)

Oh, three times a day, morning, noon and evening.

(Did you do any kind of work around the house?)

No.

(Who did all the work?)

My mother.

(Did you know any white children at that time?)

No.

(You didn't?)

I wasn't acquainted with none, no white people.

DANCES

(Did the Indians have dances then?)

Yes. They had dances.

(About how often did they have them?)

Oh, once in a while because they had to travel in a wagon.

(What kind of dances did they have?)

Oh, just like this round dance and war dance.

(Did they camp out at them?)

Yeah, they camp out like they know they camp out.

(Well, how long did they last?)

Oh, they danced in the afternoon and then they would maybe quit at eleven.

(How many days?)
