

(Did they live very far?)

Oh, just two or three miles.

(About how long before you had the baby did they get there?)

Oh maybe I suffer about a day I guess.

(What would they do when the child was being born?)

Oh, they do just like the hospital. They wash the mother with warm water and tie them up.

(The baby?)

Yeah, they wash them with warm water.

(Well, what did you do when you first had your labor pains?)

Oh, I just had to suffer until it was born.

(They didn't have anything special for you to do?)

No.

(Did they have any kind of food restrictions on you?)

No----

(You could eat anything you wanted to?)

Yeah,, I could eat anything I wanted to and after I had my birth I could eat anything.

(Did they have anything special for you to eat?)

No.

(How long did it take for you to have a child?)

Oh, it didn't take long about a day or two.

(What did they do the umbilical cord?)

Oh, they cut into it, tie it and then throw that afterbirth away.

(Did they bury it?)

Yeah, they bury it.

(What about the navel cord, what did they do with that?)

Oh, they tie it with twine string and then they cut it real short and throw the other part away and bury it somewhere.
