

(Did they keep you wrapped up in blankets?)

Yeah, I stayed in bed for ten days.

(What kind of bed did you have?)

Oh, just a board bed, you know.

(Well is it a special bed?)

No.

(Well, when you had your baby were you on this bed?)

Yeah.

(Did all women have their babies in the house?)

Some of them but now days they go to the hospital, they don't have them at home like we use to.

(Were any men allowed in there then?)

No.

(Did a doctor a man Indian doctor ever help that you know of?)

No.

(Was he afraid to?)

I don't know, they just don't allow no man to be around.

(How old was your baby when you first named him?)

Oh, I just couldn't tell you, I don't know. Oh, after about two or three months they would name it.

(Who would name him?)

Oh, someone my folks.

(Was there anyone in particular?)

No.

(How would they pick a name for him?)

Some of them went to school my age and they would name them. Most of my age are gone now.

(Did they ever name him for another relative?)

Yeah, some of them names after their relatives.
