

that He would provide for me--that I was going to town to see a man that always helped me in ways--that it would be that what I was going to ask him would come the way I want it. I went out. I kept praying. And there were four of these telephone poles laying over there. I sat down. I rested. Here a while I was sitting there I start praying. I got through praying. I said, "Lord, make a way for me that I get to town soon, and then a way of walking." I got up. I seen something. It was a five dollar bill. I picked it up. I thanked the Lord for it and went on a little ways. Here a car come along and picked me up and took me to town. I got to town, And I don't know where that money come from, but I got two hundred and forty-four dollars--check. I went to this store, and I had a bill in that store for twenty-eight dollars. I paid for it. Then I got my groceries. Got everything that I thought the kids would need, and got canned goods and stuff. I spend fifty-eight dollars on groceries. Then that man in the store, I asked him, "Could you take me home?" "Yeah," he said. So he loaded my groceries and I come home. Imogene said, "Oh, mama," she said. "Where did you get this?" I said, "Oh, I had a check," I told her. "I don't know where it come from, but I had two hundred and forty-eight dollar check." When we had something to eat. But we didn't even have no flour that morning. We just had oatmeal for the kids.

(That's when Imogene was still living out there?)

Yeah, they were here. That was about six years ago, I think. I told her, "You know, I'm thankful I got this check, but I don't know where it come from," I told her. "It's just through prayer that I got it." And she sures believes in it. That's the way I got my groceries. We were just out and I said, "I owe almost a hundred dollars, but I'm going to go and see if we can
