

get ready. We have an announcement here by Mr. Hoffman while these three specials are getting ready.

Fred Hoffman: On Sunday, September 12, 1971, a dinner and dance will be given in honor of Private First Class, Johnny Walters at the Fonda community hall. Private Walters just returned from Viet Nam. Special invitation to all War mothers, service clubs, Cheyenne and Arapaho Gourd dancers, Starhawks, and everyone welcome. Bring dishes and chairs. Head drummer, Hailman Little Coyote, M. C. Roy Nightwalker, Head man dancer, Don Piper, head lady dancer, May Topah, little girl head dancer, Elena Marie Hernando, little boy head dancer, Gary Howard. This will be sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Walters of Seiling, Oklahoma and I thank you all.

All right, special for Joe Hoof--war dance. Allen Supton, you're also included in this special and also Kate Osage special for Jeff Woodhouse. Three specials are combined. (Jeff Woodhouse is a white man, was in service with her son. Was visiting her son and wrote her and said he was studying different tribe and very interested in Cheyenne language. Her son that was killed in the service. This same man won the Pendleton blanket last night.) After this special is completed, next will be John Spottedwolf and Janelle Orange. Spottedwolf is the little boy head dancer, and Janelle Orange will also be the two combined. (Special song. Cut to giveaway.) (Stu or Joe Birdhead dances with Suttons in Allen's special.) Inola Waters called to shake hands with Joe Hoof, one of the outgoing officers of this pow-wow. Wanda Wilson, you're asked to come and shake hands with Joe Hoof. Hailman Little Coyote's mother. Emma Medicine (called). Mary White--(cut off) Kate Osage. Danny Oldcrow, the head drummer. Frances Russell. If she's not here, someone come and acknowledge the gift. Greg Haumpy. Rosetta LeClair. Rosetta's sister. Bertha Little Coyote. Myrtle Lincoln. Roger Redhat.
