

They get against one another, have hard feelings at one another and then finally they split up.

AVOIDANCE AND RESPECT RELATIONSHIPS:

(I wanted to ask you about all the hard feelings that seem to be expressed among some groups. There seems to be quite a bit of this and I would just like to know why?)

Yea, well the reason for the way the things happen is one party wants to be bigger, have ah, show off bigger than the other party. I think that there, it's just a fealous hearted feelings among one another and then it gradually go until it just splits the whole group up into two partnerships when they should be just one. Just like this Blackfooters here, they started out with a big group and my son-in-law mother is the one that brought this up and they was all in one group. All right they gradually, the Redbones, they want to be bigger than this bunch and they kept going til finally they just took my son-in-law he's the type he don't talk much so he just said it was alright. They wanna have they own group they oan have they own group but he gonna stay back with his bunch. So that's one reason that there's two, two parties and to this day they can't, this bunch don't say nothing but this other bunch you know how womans folks are they gotta say something to hurt somebody's feelings. Well, it's the same way with this Gourd Clan, well they're having their fourth of July Celebration now. It's their annual doing on the fourth of July, but the other group I just can't make out who all, how many is in the other group. He just resigned not too long ago up there at 'Pache. He resigned out of this group because of too many hard feelings of any among certain parties I guess, he just thought he'd resigned and just don't belong to no club and ordinary just go along with the people. So he resigned out of this one, and they had a big doing, a big dance up there at 'Pache for him from the post. He worked at the post. He's supposed to be retired byt he's still working. It's not the club that gave that dance up there at 'Pache for him. It's all them lieutenants and the guys that he works for at the post are the ones put up the dance for him.
