

Viet Nam, and they honored him last Sunday. She's thankful to one and all that supported honoring that gentleman. At this time she's making introduction--she's calling Mary Haag to come forward and receive a gift.

(Pause) Introduction being made by Garrett Medicinebear in honor of his brother, who has served a term of duty in Viet Nam. At this time he's calling Mr. Lujan to come forward and receive a gift. (Aside to someone-- "Don't let Charlie tell you any stories. Ed Burns always tells a clean story!")

Dave: I've still got a boy in the Marines that I want to honor him now, and I want to give a present to Mr. Lujan, here, for my boy, Sgt. David Fanman, Jr.

Roy: This old lady you see here today is Kate Osage. She's from Longdale, Oklahoma. Her son, Wesley Osage, was in the Navy in World War II. And the boat went down...the Japanese ship block. She's asking Martin Star to come up here and receive a gift. (Pause) Also calling Sally Sutton. (Pause) Bertha Little Coyote here is honoring her sister... asking Mrs. Lujan to come up here and receive some money. (Aside) "Lujan, go listen to Charlie Curtis--he's put you on a spare horse and tell you a little...." (?) (A joking remark.)

Clinton: O. K. drummers, while we are making preparation for a special in honor of Carolyn Hancock, (Head lady dancer) we are asking you to give us a few Gourd Dance songs. We will serve supper at six o'clock sharp. (It's 5:30 now.)

Gourd Dance song. On second song Henry Gates puts a five-dollar bill down in front of Jess who is dancing, and Saul Birdshead is there to pick it up. The Pueblo Indian, Cárcia, is really dancing. He has a yellow
