

(into left and right halves). Half and half. It made two half-boys out of one. And both of them were living. They're Twin Boys, we call them. "Half a brother--we can play now! You and I can play--brothers. You're my brother." Grandma Spider Woman come home. "Grandma, I got my brother here. This is my brother." "Oh, you threw the wheel in the air, didn't you? I told you not go!" "Yes, but we're getting along all right, me and brother." "All right, well, you play. But never throw the wheel to the north. Play with it, but you boys be careful and never throw the wheel to the north, when you're playing."

STORY OF ORIGIN OF TEN GRANDMOTHER GODS: ADVENTURES OF TWIN BOYS, INCLUDING THE KILLING OF THE BUFFALO WITH STEEL-TIPPED HORNS

So she went off to work and they play arrows, shoot the ball, and they wonder what Grandma always put that corn back in the cupboard. And when she was gone they went to inspect, and there was big snake there. There was a snake. The boys got their arrows and they shot and they killed the snake. Killed the snake and throwed it out. Grandma come home. The boys said, "Grandma, we kill the snake in the cupboard." "Oh, you did! That's your grandpa! It's your grandpa!" So Grandma had to mourn. She commenced to mourning. Went outside. And in the morning she put in the words--(sings song in Kiowa). That (one of the phrases) means "white, speckled body"--of the snake. And the boys say, "Well, you're singing about that snake." Well, she said, "You boys behave now and don't never throw the wheel up north." In the meantime she went to work. She had a crop. I don't know what kind of crop she got. She went that way, to her garden. "Let's throw it to the north and see what happens!" So they throw it to the north and that thing speeded! Just flew! And they chased it and it just had too much speed--they couldn't catch it. And they just kept a-going and they kept following it and finally it went over a bluff on the creek. And they came to the bluff. When they came to the top of the bluff there was this lone tipi there. And their wheel was on the top of the tipi poles, hanging up there on the very top. Smoke coming out. So they
