

Wolf Boy - III

Again he goes hunting unknown he is to be buried alive, after he is gone the Buffalo hide is removed small twigs lay across pit and covered over as though it was his bed - it look innocent as he is Come home and sat down he drops to the bottom of the pit, Begs wife to get him out, she began to cover hole but she stop down the ^{dry} Buffalo hide over it, dry up like a board.
She then tore down piece and left him in the hole and went to the village.
She was asked where her Companion is all she know he went hunting and never return, his Relatives mourn for him, she kept her secret But after she move from the isolated camp & left her husband for the Wolves they did come, and tore top of the pit, and there was a man at the bottom so pitiful the Big -
