

fuse (e.g., the Pawnee). Yes, sometime they have refused. Well, they would have to pick out someone else to take the tobacco. Anyway, after the man receives, accepts the tobacco, they set a day for the give-away, say two weeks off, three weeks off, but during the three weeks, they will camp as visitors, until the day that the give-away is.

(How does this guy fix the tobacco, that is, the one the head man hires?)

You mean the ingredients he uses? Well, I would say that he uses half of..let's put it like this. One spoonful, table spoonful of Bull Durham tobacco, and the other half, the other tablespoon, would be, let's say Granger Twist tobacco. You seen it. They'll grind it up with their hand, mix it up. Or..I take that back. Sometime, well most of the time, they use this Bull Durham and this shoemake bush..dried leaves. Or sometimes, they use this twist. My dad used the twist onetime. Twist and shoemake leaves, that's what they used.

I got little confused there.

(Do they put anything else in it?)

No, it's just like..

(What do they put it in when it's mixed?)

They put it in a little pouch or bag.

(Then is that what they take up to the Pawnee?)

Yea, I imagine that's similar to..no, I tell you. Anyway, let's get this straight. Suppose now that the tobacco is brought there and you was the man they brought the tobacco to. Alright, you won't say when the giveaways going to be, but you will say to
