

Anadarko. He's over there in the morning, and then he comes over here in the afternoon. So, they're working on it now. So, she'll get it back. She buried him with that insurance that she got. That five thousand, she buried him with that. So that's all taken care of. So if they ever get this straightened out, then the government will pay her. She paid out all that insurance. That will help her. I tell you, she's just been in and out of the hospital since her husband died. Since my boy died, some day, she's just going to drink herself to death. She got five children.

And oh, she's been sick. They're working on it.

(How long did he work?)

Over a year, maybe two. I really don't know. They lived the other side of Carnegie, and I didn't know much about it. Maybe just once in a while, he'd come out here. That's all she gets is $75 dollars from that social security. The oldest one... she's got five kids...the oldest one is fourteen, and the youngest one is six. From fourteen, on down to six...in between, there's three there.

(Can she get county aid?)

DISCUSSION OF ECONOMIC DIFFICULTIES AND LACK OF HELP FOR INDIANS

They will not help an Indian, nothing.

(How about aid for dependent children?)

I know it. She went...they live in Kiowa county, and she's went to the welfare, and they won't help her. It's because of that insurance, but she's got it all spent. She got her house fixed.

/ People don't know what's going on, They think all those agencies out there, they helping the Indians big, they helping them out...get money by the bunch. Ain't no such thing.

(We would like to get some idea about the problems you are having, and the kinds of things that you need that aren't being taken care of.)

I know an Indian woman, she went down to where they get loans, and they told her, no, they ain't no loans here for an Indian to repair a house. See, there she was, she just had to walk out. That's the office...at the office. She went out there to see if they could have their house repaired, and he said, no, they ain't
