

he come out and it was Sainday. And all them women-them girls and boys they run. And he went back toward his tipi, you know, to see his wife. He said, "My wife's waiting for me. I got to go to bed with her!" (laughs) And that Old Man Bigbow (Able), he said, "There ain't nobody around here- I'm going to talk nasty!" he said. (Everyone laughs). Yeah. Old Sainday- he's sure no good! He's sure got some bad stories, you know. That's the end of that. (Over)

2. (SEGMENT OF T-71 PLAYED)

SECOND SEGMENT: SAINDAY MEETS AN OLD WOMAN AND EATS ALL THE DRIED INTES-TINES SHE HAD FIXED FOR HERSELF TO EAT; WHILE SAINDAY IS ASLEEP A RABBIT HAS INTERCOURSE WITH HIM AND SAINDAY GIVES BIRTH TO LITTLE RABBITS WHEN HE WAKES UP

Sainday walked up to a camp and there was an old lady camping there. And she said, "Oh, what you doing?" And he said, "Oh, I'm just moseying along." He's always moseying along. And she said, "Oh, sit down. I'm eating." She had these dried weinies, you know what they call dried intestines (Kio-wa term, "botte".) You she had them dried, you know. And she said, "Go ahead, sit down and eat." And he said, "What are you afraid of?" And she said, "I've been camping here myself and I'm really afraid. Of one certain bird, I always hear it. If I hear it-if you miss me-" the old lady said, "If you miss me. You could stay here." She said; "I'll be back." So when she heard that bird, well, she took off, and she left him. And you know how he likes to eat all the time and he cooked all her stuff. He ate it up and then he left, you know. So that was the first part of that story. So here's another one, what he (Able) talked about.

He (Sainday) went on a long journey. And he come into this tent. And when he went in, that rabbit was laying over there. "Hey, he said, "What you doing?" he said. "Oh, I'm just moseying along. I've been on a long journey.
