

I was born in Thomas, Oklahoma, April 7, 1903. And I married Susie, my wife--I was going to school at Southwestern, in '21, '22, and '23. And in '24, I just came here to visit and got married. I been living here ever since. I say it's 'about 43 years.

(Forty-three years, huh?)

I been living around Concho, forty-three years.

(Where did you go to grade school and all that?)

I went to Colony Seger school. And I remember--didn't they (not clear) Watt Seger. Well, he was superintendent when I went to school. And this school was named after him. I read where they used to come way over here after commodities.

On a wagon, you know. I was just reading that in that book. But today, he's got a--must be a granddaughter or something that's still living in Colony. I met her.

(I was through Colony once. I know it's not too big anymore.)

No.

(Just a few people.)

COLONY POW-WOW - SERGEANT-AT-ARMS

Few people. We have a pow-wow there every fall, in September, it coincides Labor Day. And I've been an officer for--it will be eight years this fall.

(That's quite a while. Has there always been a pow-wow at Colony, or is that something that's just started?)

It has been started, say, fifteen years, twenty years, maybe longer? But they select officers every two years. I just lucky that's they've kept me.

(I guess they like your work.)

My time run out this next fall.

(You going to run again?)
