

Yeah. They may keep me or they may get somebody else. I'm a Sergeant-At-Arms for that.

(Sergeant-At-Arms, huh. Well, you better stay in good shape.)

Yeah.

SCHOOLS - COLONY AND CHILOCCO - EXPERIENCES

(What--what--you remember what they taught at Colony when you were growing up? The subjects in the grades? Could you speak English when you went to--when you started to school?)

Very little.

(Very little, huh?. Just Cheyenne mostly, huh?)

Cheyenne. I learn it. I finished there. But we just went up to sixth grade.

(Sixth?)

Yeah.

(Did you have any--how did you get along with--were there very many white kids?)

No, it's just--

(All Indian.)

All Indians.

(So they didn't have, well, now did--did they teach you in Indian, or did they--?)

No. They taught English.

(They taught English.)

Taught English. I can't /not clear/, but her mouth washed.

They taught her in English. She went to school there.

(You know, I remember that story. Hey! Let's get her in here.)

Susie! Susie! Susie! Come here. She tell you about it.

(Remember that story you were telling me about when you first started to school?)

Yeah, where you...

Susie: I can't talk very good. My teeth are out and...
