Susie: Just take your time, we won't miss them.

OLD FURNITURE NOT IMPORTANT TO INDIANS

Susie: --lot of old furniture. Oh! You've got an antique here!
./laughter/ And you know Indians, they don't care. Oh, it's just old furniture /much laughter/. Oh, you can have it--it's just old furniture. And we had made a music stand; you know, it was just a record holder-like--it was inlaid with those pearl. Oh, it was pretty, but /inaudible/. They said this was an antique. We didn't Susie: I know for sure it was made out of cherry wood.

PREPARATION FOR SUN DANCE

John: I had my first experience this summer; chiefs they put up-- they cut the timber and put this Sun Dance up. Chiefs, they done all this cutting. Cottonwood trees, and puttin' it up, you know.
And the first thing we look for is about that big around tree, you know.

(To put in the center?)

John: Yeah, the center pole with fork, you know like that--leave a fork, you know. Anyway, at least thirty foot high, you know.

(Just that high. Have to be any special--how big around does it have to be?)

John: I don't know how big that would be, you know.

(Yeah, eighteen inches, two feet, like that?)

John: Yeah, anyway, we put it in ground 'bout three, four feet and then they put--be like roof over house--twenty round 'bout like that.

(About six inches in diameter--the pole?)
