

He pray that way..something like that. All right, he camp there.

Then he's watching, then bunch is coming from every direction. They know who they are..who comes. He says, that fella come that's why they he's got a bunch. And that's all that fella come that way. Pretty soon they all come..they're all here now. All right, they move on. He get up and pack up and move on to another location. They camp. They all come behind and they all camp around. And be that time they're already start the singing the drumming, the company of each we call it each soldiers..each company. Warrior societies they call them..the little boys rabbits..Rabitts bunch, rabbit bunch they call them. Then they take up the Horse Tassels ce ta to. Then there is another bunch they call them da beko. They call them Gourd Dancer..Gourd Dancer da beko. They know who they are. A fellow come on horseback come in..he holler, he talk. He tell them "Ooooh," he says dabeko Gourd Dancer, are gathering over htere." He says, "You bunch come over there and sit in the camp." So they went over there. Then there is another bunch, another company. I don't know how many companies there are. They gather, maybe all of them maybe all the sets is there. Each company got their own set. All right, they move on again. While they camp like that and move around they sing songs and music of that company, whoever company you belong to. The company they're call then you go if you belong to that comapny. Each one of them know what they're doing. Then you could hear that drum, dum-dum-dum, boom-boom-bom here's one way oever there, another one over there, another over ohh..there's a lot of excitment that's going on. Good time is starting now. That's a good time..you can catch a squaw you going to flirt. You can catch one goone one. Maybe the