

why they go and there's company..different company. They always bunch up one company, another company, another and another. Then they all bunch up. They don't go together. One dancing along this way and another that way and oh boy, they have a big time. Yeah, I just give you a little sketch of it. Then there is a party, a man, who is taking care of that how it goes. Taking care of it when dinner time comes, one man on horseback he goes over there he hollers "Ahh-haaah." he's calling a company maybe say, Blackfoot or different company. One company sets over here at this place. Certain he's appointed his camp there. They invite you for dinner and all the young boys they got a girl on horseback, behind.
 Pretty girls. I wish I was alone that time. We go down there..me and Grandma, great Grandma, great-great-Grandma. We come to that and Grandma says, "Lets go to this bunch." She says, "We will go over here to Blackfoot." or "We go over here to Gourd Dance, or "Go over here to Horse Company", or something like that different company there. A certain company we go. And here they coming girls and boys. They get off and his mother or his father is t here, waiting. Just as soon as they get off they take his horse. They take back to the camp, taking care of it and this boy and this girl they march right in and they sit down somewhere. Not only that companybut different companys. Here is one over there and one over there and one over there..before we go, I know where we go. We go to Horse Company. Horse Tassel, they call them. They got a red tassel, horse tassel. That's where we go. That's where Grandma old lady.'s husband belonged to that company and my great-great-grandma like that company. So we always go there and when we come to their camp the chief man say, "Hey come here. Sit down over here sit down. Pretty soon we are going to eat." Oooee, lots of eat, lots of meat, lots of
