

PEYOTE:

(Do you know how peyote got started, do you know where it came from?)

Uhuh. Ah, peyote is just the stuff that grows in the mountains, in the hills, rocks. Some kind of herbs and they are just as bitter as I don't know what. Bitter as quinine. It ain't no good. I thought it was a god or something but I find out it ain't no good.

(How did they Kiowas first get it?)

Uh?

(Where did the Kiowas first get it?) What? (Peyote?)

Oh, way back they use to eat with different with different tribes. Not only all of them but just one, two, three Kiowas. Then they come, coming coming pretty soon they just come. Yeah, they think it is a god or something. I find out when you get in there you find out yourself, it's nothing.

(Where did the Kiowas find out about it?) Th

They find out from the Caresa..some bribe of they call them Caresa.

They some kind of maybe Mexican or I don't know. They found this peyote I don't know how they found it and they eating it use it in worship.

And the ~~Kiowas~~ are drawn in there with them and that's the way they learn it. You savy. Then the Kiowas go down there. Then the Comanches got in there. Then that's the way it started, in my time, my young days.

They ate peyote. They eat over here, at night time you could hear the drum, another one over there yeah.

(Did your Grandfather use peyote?)

(TAPE RUNS OUT.)
